Dear Megan,

I echo the sentiments from Craig Platt's email from earlier today. My office would love to see the civil motion calendar moved to Friday morning. We also adamantly oppose the "alternating morning/afternoon schedule" set forth in the proposed Local Rules. I believe the alternating schedule will create confusion, missed hearings, unnecessary delay, and additional expense for clients. As a related issue, the proposed alternating schedule does not appear to address months that contain five Mondays, like there were in May last month.

Yours,
Jeff

Good afternoon,

Pursuant to General Rule 7, Island County Superior Court has published the proposed additions or amendments to our Local Court Rules on the Superior Court website under "Important Announcement." This email will serve as notification to the Island County Prosecutor, Island County Clerk, Island Defense, and the Island County Bar Association.

I have attached three documents for your review:

1. Island County's Current Local Court Rules- Effective September 1, 2022
2. Island County's Proposed Local Court Rules- Scheduled to go into Effect September 1, 2023
3. Redline version of Island County's Proposed Local Court Rules- Scheduled to go into Effect September 1, 2023

I would like to call your attention to two specific sections with changes:

1. LCR 77(k) – Changes to the Monday calendars and special set hearings
2. LSPR 94 (k) – Addition of Informal Family Law Trials

All comments on the proposed court rules must be submitted in writing and provided to me at m.frazier@islandcountywa.gov or mailed to 1 NE 7th Street, Coupeville, WA 98239. All comments will be posted on the Island County Superior Court website for review and must be received by 4 p.m. on June 23, 2023.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Megan Frazier
